Getting Rugged and the $FIGHT

Token history

I go by \$dunamis on X, and I've been involved in supporting early Cardano projects since 2021. When I started posting on X, politics was the last thing I wanted to be involved with.

Over time, however, the situation in the United States of America has deteriorated to the point that staying silent is no longer an option for me. At the same time, Americans are so divided between two seemingly opposite sides that we can no longer see who the real enemy is.

On July 15th, 2024, the attempted assassination of former President Donald Trump shocked the world. On one side, people said that the "deep state" missed, and the other side claimed that this was a campaign operation. Even if the American people ever get the truth, how can we possibly trust it?

A few days later (July 19th), I came across the $FIGHT memes online. It seemed to be a powerful message that we could all get behind, as long as the $FIGHT is directed at the folks running the system rather than our brothers and sisters who we might disagree with.

So, as with any sh!tcoin, I completed my due diligence and learned more about the project. There was a fixed supply of 450 billion tokens, and the policy ID was already locked. In retrospect, these actions were clearly not enough to prevent being rugged.

After a few smaller entry purchases, and noticing how many tokens I received relative to the total supply, I made a significant entry just to watch the price immediately reset to zero. The original team's Twitter account & any traces of their social media presence completely vanished. Not big news; I've been rugged before.

But why would they use such a powerful and popular meme for a quick few hundred bucks?

I can't answer that question, but after seeing that the original founders pulled and even sold the LP, I did the only thing that popped into my head at the time. I decided to $FIGHT back! I bought what I could of the remaining supply (initially around half, then after shaking out the last ruggers, it was above 90%).

I turned around and put a little over 100 billion tokens as well as between one and two thousand ADA into the already verified liquidity pool. That helped to stabilize the price back to where it was before the rug.

I also noticed that I was able to register the same Twitter handle, so the token information pointed to a social media account that I would control. The next step was to reach out and ask for advice. I was absolutely blown away by the number of the people who immediately offered to help the $FIGHT project, either by providing artwork, helping to plan or helping to acquire verification on TapTools. An entire community assembled around all tasks that I would never have been able to complete on my own.

We have a website now (I'm a web2 software engineer by trade), verified X account, Telegram, Truth Social, and Discord presence currently—all linked below! I would love to build some fun application for this community if you all would like to see it.

God bless.

PROJECT OVERVIEW

Mission Statement

The $FIGHT Coin ADA project's primary goal is to bring value to the Cardano community and the world by leveraging the power of a meme to bridge the gap between Cardano and new users through the realm of politics. Our focus is to unite people, rather than divide people, by encouraging open discussion and the thoughtful exchange of ideas.

This mission aligns with the Cardano ecosystem's current focus on Voltaire Era governance, where objective is to push power to the edges. The $FIGHT coin community is here to help make decentralized governance a reality for all.

Introduction

$FIGHT Coin ADA is more than just a digital asset; it is a symbol of resilience, unity, and the power of community. As we venture into the political landscape of 2024 and beyond, the $FIGHT Team's objective is to use this meme coin to foster a sense of togetherness and collaboration among people from extremely diverse backgrounds.

Objectives

1. Bridging Cardano Communities:

Create a welcoming entry point for new users to the Cardano ecosystem by linking the world of digital assets with political engagement.

2. Promoting Ecosystem Unity:

Encourage open dialogue and respectful discourse to bridge divides and foster mutual understanding between all community members, regardless of political beliefs or trading preferences.

3. Supporting Decentralized Governance:

The $FIGHT Team strives to align our efforts with the principles of the Voltaire Era in Cardano. We will emphasize decentralized governance and community-focused decision-making in everything that we do from, starting day one.

Core Values

- Transparency:
Uphold the highest standards of openness in all our actions and communications.
- Inclusivity:
Ensure that everyone, regardless of their background, feels welcome and valued in our community.
- Innovation:
Continuously seek new and creative ways to enhance the Cardano ecosystem and the broader world of digital assets.

Founder's Statement

$FIGHT Coin ADA's tokenomics reflect the best of our community's core values: transparency, inclusivity, innovation, and the unyielding spirit to keep fighting! Built on the Cardano blockchain, we've crafted a tokenomic model that prioritizes fairness, openness, and collective ownership.

Every token holder is a vital part of the community, and will be invited to join the $FIGHT Coin ADA DAO once deployed. This is to ensure that power remains decentralized and in the hands of the people, where it belongs.

At the heart of our tokenomic model is the belief that true liberty comes from decentralized ownership, empowering each member of the community to have a voice, and enabling them to stand together against centralized forces.

$FIGHT Coin ADA isn't just a meme coin; it's a movement. The spirit of resilience and a love of freedom guides us as we push forward, innovate, and uphold the values we cherish.

STRATEGY AND PROJECT ROADMAP

Overview

I know this can not be accomplished on my own, which is why the $FIGHT Team will establish a DAO, via the Clarity Protocol's governance infrastructure, to facilitate the project's future development and roadmap progress. This will be a process, but our goal is to establish community control over all project funds as soon as possible.

The Liberty Project was founded with a vision of everyone in the community working together, creating content, spreading the message, educating new people, and growing organically in much the same way that Bitcoin was started.

Also, the lack of regulatory clarity in the United States has made the line between company founder and criminal too blurry to feel comfortable selling crypto assets. In some way, it seems like Providence that I came by this opportunity on the secondary market. At least I know that I haven't sold an asset here that I made out of nothing.

I will facilitate the creation of a DAO and proposal process so that we might move forward as a community, together, towards that promise of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

The incentive structure includes staking operations and partner stake pools. Since the community is starting without the benefit of a stocked treasury, we will consider minting an NFT collection only after those funds can go directly into DAO control.

We will also work on the MVP of our application to help the community $FIGHT the system.

Fight the Systems

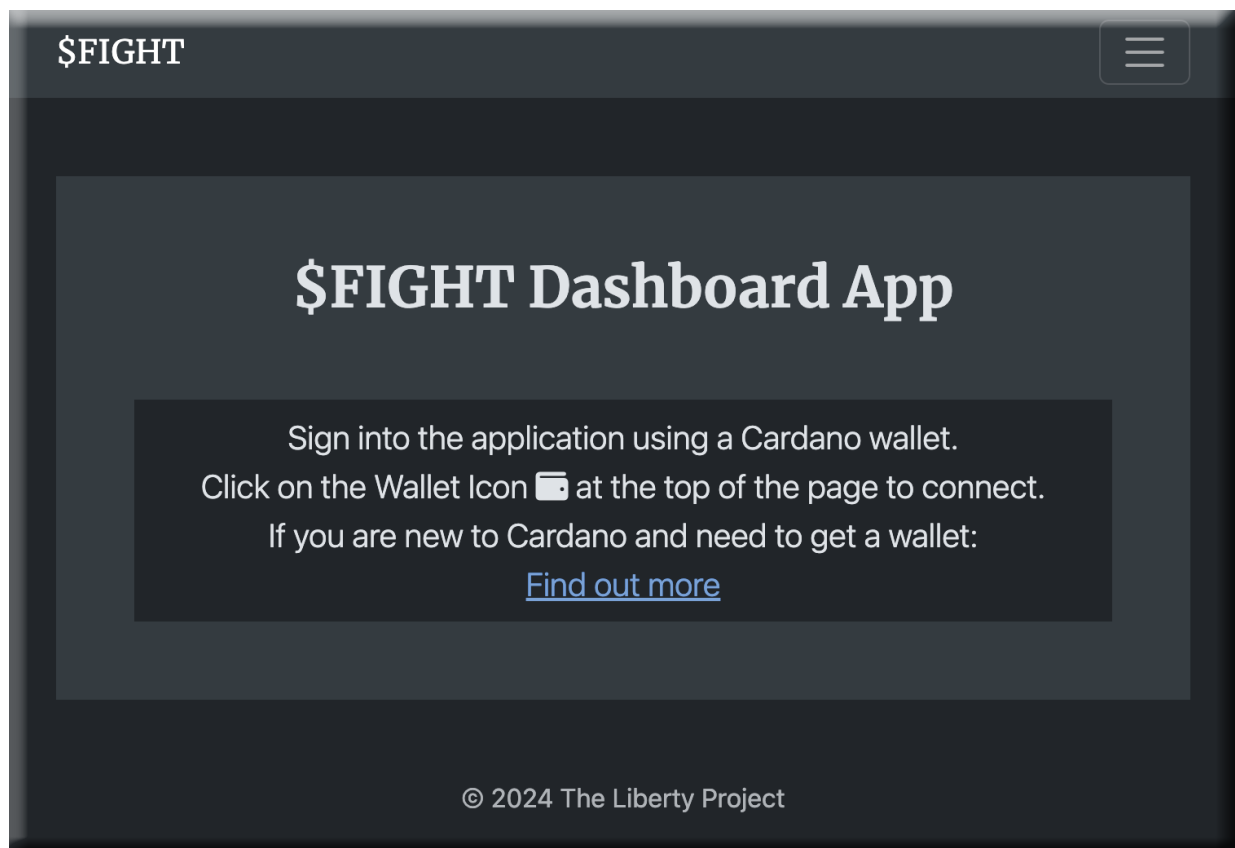

Our website project (name TBD) will allow the community to store and organize their personal data in a safer way. Users will be able to connect to the site on device formats from mobile to desktop computers and work from their own personalized web portal.

The portal will have:

- anonymous access with wallet based authentication (no fees needed)
- centralized encrypted storage for v1
- decentralized encrypted storage for v2 (fees may be needed)
- customizable search bar that will take you to your favorite search engine
- customizable dashboard with various configurations for bookmarks
- customizable tabs to separate and organize portal pages
- light mode / dark mode switcher for v1
- customizable themes for v2
- social media shareable?

We will release the portal in stages, where the alpha testing will be handled by the internal team. Beta access may also be available, in partnership with the Liberty Project. More details will be available for how to become a beta tester as we get closer to testing.

Finally, the general release will allow any DAO member access to the portal. We may add premium features that would require $FIGHT tokens to purchase.
